EXCELLENCE

A CONTINUOUS PROCESS

Academic excellence has been the routine affair in the annals of the century-old Islamiah College. Our College is also the hub of skill development and myriad of extension activities. A number of Society linked programmes are conducted inside and outside the campus and the students are actively involved. Two blood donation camps were conducted in this year itself and nearly 250 units of blood were donated to Government Hospital. Voters' Awareness programme, tree plantation drive, Science exhibition and numerous other useful activities are hosted by our College units of Youth Red Cross, Rotaract Club, NSS and NCC. The students are closely monitored by Mentoring system and the personal and academic shortcomings of the students are readily addressed. Periodical Parent-Teacher meetings and Alumni meetings are conducted by the respective departments. Job oriented courses are conducted in the College to which the leading industrialists and professionals are invited to share their expertise and experiences with our students. National and international Seminars in all disciplines are frequently conducted to give the students exposure to the most recent developments in every field. Sports activities galore in our College grounds and our students bring a lot of laurels in inter-collegiate, inter divisional sports competitions. Nearly 1.70 crores have been sanctioned by UGC for developing sports activities and infrastructure facilities during this period. In the back drop of our extensive extension activities coupled with our customary academic excellence we are all set to be adored by the star status by the Department of Biotechnology, Government of India. Again and again we prove that "Excellence is a continuous process and not an accident" as quoted by our former President and great Scientist Dr. A. P. J. Abdul Kalam.

Secretary's Message

Quality is the benchmark for the success and survival of any educational institution. Quality of learners depends on quality of teachers who play a vital role in character building of the students and the backbone of the entire education system. Of course, the newsletter is one of our modes that disseminate all the deeds of our staff and students within and outside the campus. This newsletter is a showcase of our academic, research and social activities that not only justify our reaccreditation with 'A' grade but also validate the grant of autonomy. Now, this is the time to spread our tentacles to grab the possible funds from all sources to sustain the quality of education. We will declare the forthcoming academic year as a "Year of Academic Review" and uphold the spirit of autonomy and accountability, which are the two sides of the same coin. I take this opportunity to call upon all our teaching and non-teaching staff to regroup to impress upon the members of the upcoming autonomy review committee.

L. M. Muneer Ahmed

Principal's Message

The quality of education in higher learning institutions depends on the caliber and attitudes of students towards learning, the competence and commitment of teachers towards educational process, the flexibility and foresightedness of the governance system and the social responsibility and credibility of the education providers. The autonomy and accountability provides a better frame work for realization and fostering these parameters. No doubt, the 21st issue of this newsletter contains a speck of our growth towards the realization of these basic factors. I take this opportunity to appeal all the stakeholders of this institution especially the teachers and students to hold the reins tight as the visit of the Autonomy review committee is imminent. I also extend my wholehearted thanks to the generous Management for their unstinted support for achieving the spirit of autonomy. With many more facilities and infrastructure development are on the anvil, I strongly believe that our staff members will surely rise up to the occasions demanded by the time.
